KATANGA – The Dance of the Scorpions, by Uppsala based Burkinabe Film Director Dani Kouyaté, is a universal and timeless political fable, adapted from William Shakespeare's tragedy Macbeth. Katanga is about loyalty in friendship, and the fragility of human nature in the face of power. In this film, the Shakespearean universe easily meets the spirit of the great African narratives tinged with the supernatural and recurring fusions between the visible and invisible worlds.

Katanga was awarded the Golden Stallion at the 29th Festival Panafricain du Cinéma et de la Télévision de Ouagadougou (FESPACO), 2025. After the screening, Film Director Dani Kouyaté will engage the audience in a conversation. The screening is free of charge. No registration.
