Round-table

Sports and Racism

Date and Time: Wednesday 16 September 16.30-18.00
Venue: Ihresalen, Engelska Parken, Thunbergsvägen 3H, Uppsala

The Forum for Africa Studies and the Centre for Multidisciplinary Studies on Racism invite to a round-table on Sports and Racism, particularly focusing on Afrophobia. Today many athletes of African origin practice in clubs and in national teams in Europe. Even though success is celebrated, they are oftentimes subject to discrimination and racist practices. This round table brings together researchers and practitioners in a conversation on how society can tackle racialization, and racism in sports: How do racist practices influence sports? What is being done on the ground in communities, neighbourhoods, clubs and teams? And what need to be done in politics, private sector, civil society, education, public debate, etc.?
